

~The Nifty Crown~

By Spiffy Handmade

Materials and Information

You can use any yarn and any hook. The key to getting it to fit is making sure your chain is the right length. This pattern is in multiples of six. If you are using a smaller weight yarn, you will need to chain more. If you are using a larger weight yarn, you will need less. I used a worsted weight (4) yarn and a 5.5mm hook. Your tension and your hook size will also affect your size. Play around with different multiples of six to get your right size. The fun thing about this project is that it is a crown and can fit for anyone, so if you don't get the right size the first time, it may fit someone else you know! Also, the project is fast and doesn't take much yardage.

I bought the gem stone at Walmart, they come in a pack of three (optional)

The silver ribbon I also bought at Walmart (optional)

Stitches and abbreviations used: Slip stitch(SL ST), space(SP), chain(CH), single crochet(SC), double crochet(DC).

Please read the pattern before starting your project.

Pattern

Start by chaining your multiple of six. Join with slip stitch to form the circle and chain 1.

Round one

Single crochet in each stitch around, join with slip stitch into first chain 1.

Round two

Chain 3, double crochet in each stitch around, join with slip stitch into top of beginning chain 3.

Round three

Chain 1, single crochet in each stitch around, join with slip stitch to beginning chain 1.

Round four

Chain 3, dc 2 times into same stitch as your chain 3 started, chain 2, dc three more times in same stitch.

Skip 2 stitches, slip stitch into the next stitch. Skip two stitches and double crochet three times into the next stitch, chain 2, 3 more double crochet into same stitch. Repeat all the way around.

Slip stitch into last stitch available and also into the beginning chain 3 to join them all together.

Round five

Slip stitch up to the top of the peak, 2 single crochet into that chain 2 space, chain 2 and slip stitch into the first chain (as if to make a picot), 2 more single crochet into chain 2 space. Slip stitch down the valley and back up to the next peak and repeat each peak the same.

Slip stitch down to your beginning and fasten off and weave in your ends.

The ribbon I start weaving in at the front of the crown. I do not have it show on the first three below the center peak (this is where the button goes) So I go around one side weaving the yarn up three and then down three. After I get one side done, I go back to the front and get the ribbon from the other side and repeat the same process on the other side and have the ribbon ends meet in the back toward the inside of the crown so it will not be seen for pictures. I loosely tie it so that it can fit more than one baby :D I clip the ends so that they cannot be seen from the outside.

The button I start in the front of the crown at the center of one of the crown peaks. You just use the same yarn and fasten it to the middle one of the three double chains.
